Knowland Urges Early Statement By Eisenhower

Says GOP Should Have Time to Look Over Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland suggested today that President Eisenhower should make an early announcement of his 1956 political plans.

If the President should decide against seeking reelection because of his heart attack, Knowland believes that the GOP should be given plenty of time to look over available candidates before the San Francisco convention next August.

The California senator, who is regarded as a possible contender if Mr. Eisenhower bows out, still declined to discuss whether he might seek the nomination.

"Until the President gets out of the hospital and discloses his plans," he told reporters, "I consider any discussion of individual candidacies premature."

Presidential Primaries Loom
Knowland did make clear that he thinks any retirement announcement from Mr. Eisenhower should come by late fall or early winter. The deadlines for candidates to enter presidential primaries in some of the states come early in February.

If Mr. Eisenhower should withdraw, Knowland's home state may provide much pulling and hauling because it is also the home of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, another possible contender, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and Chief Justice Earl Warren.

On the other side of the political fence, Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) told reporters today that Republicans "ought to be indicted for murder in the first degree" if they "force" Mr. Eisenhower to seek a second term.

Douglas also showed no enthusiasm for the line being taken by some Southern Democrats who are calling for a "middle-of-the-road" platform and presidential candidate in 1956.

"If the Democratic Party ever becomes a conservative party," he said, "the voters will vote Republican overwhelmingly because they will prefer the real thing to a sham article."

Pennsylvania Governor Speaks
Another Democrat, Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania predicted that his state's delegation to the Democratic national convention next August will be almost solid for Adlai E. Stevenson.

Leader said he has taken "no formal position" regarding any candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. But he declared that he believes Stevenson is "the right man in the right place." Stevenson has not said yet whether he is a candidate for the nomination.

At Duluth, Minn., Sunday, he refused to give a flat "yes" or "no" to a resolution urging him to enter the Minnesota presidential primary next March 20. The resolution was adopted unanimously by the state committee of the Minnesota Democratic Party.

Stevenson said that he plans to make known his intentions in Chicago.

Crowds Jam Uptown for HTHS Parade

THE COLOR GUARD, TWIRLERS, LETTER GIRLS AND BAND turn from Main street onto the square as the belated HTHS Homecoming parade gets into full swing Saturday afternoon. Despite the postponement of the parade for 24 hours because of rain the sidewalks were lined with people along the parade route and the above photo gives some indication of the multitude on hand. Below the Homecoming Queen, Miss Beverly Bishop, rides with crown perched on her head with the three senior attendants seated behind her. Homecoming Parade Impressive Despite 24-Hour Postponement

The Harrisburg Township high school Homecoming parade made its way through uptown Harrisburg Saturday afternoon 24 hours late, but a throng was on hand to see the gaily decorated cars and clever floats despite continued inclement weather and despite the fact that the football game and coronation ceremonies was over.

Two dozen floats and cars and six or eight decorated bikes moved behind the HTHS band in the event that had been postponed from Friday to Saturday because of heavy rain.

There were less floats and cars than there would have been had the clouds not opened up all day Friday, but nevertheless the affair was impressive. The parade started on time, there was no confusion, and everybody seemed happy that it had been postponed and not called off, or attempted on wet Friday afternoon.

After the parade had moved from South Webster to Church, from Church to Main, from Main to the square, around the square to Poplar, out Poplar to McKinley and down McKinley to Sloan, judges announced the winners as follows:

High school floats: Senior class first, Sophomore class second, Freshman class third.

High school cars: Hi-Tri first, Illinois Organization of Office Occupants second, Pep club third.

Civic floats: Woolworth's first, Harrisburg Humane society second.

Civic cars: Rotary club first, American Legion Auxiliary second.

Decorated bicycle: Mike Ford first.

The parade was led by the city police car, its red dome light blinking. Next came the HTHS Color Guard, baton twirlers, letter girls and band.

The Queen, Miss Beverly Bishop, and the Senior attendants, Misses Pat Foster, Jane Lasersohn and Beverly Carpenter, followed in open car. And following in another car were the attendants from the other classes: Pat Hodson, Linda Skaggs and Patsy Schwartz.

Next came the Thespians, Office of Occupation, Pep club, Student council, Senior class, Sophomore class Hi-Y, FHA, Freshman class, Junior class and Purple Clarion, all HTHS entries.

Then came the others, the Class of 1936, Rotary, American Legion Auxiliary, the American Legion, Civil Defense and Air Force, Beta Sigma Phi, Humane society and Woolworth's.

Two decorated scooters and a half dozen decorated bicycles brought up the rear.

Additional prizes to be offered masked celebrants in the annual Halloween celebration in Harrisburg. This evening have been revealed by the committee in charge as follows:

West to Lift Passport Restrictions, Travel Ban to Russia, East Europe

Move Designed For Better East West Relations

Agree to Consider Israeli Demands For Defense Arms

GENEVA (AP)—The United States announced today it is lifting immediately all passport restrictions on travel of Americans to Russia and other East European countries.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made the announcement at the fourth plenary session of the Big Four foreign ministers conference.

It came as each of the ministers made opening statements on the question of increased East-West contacts, and shortly after Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay agreed to "consider sympathetically" Israeli demands for defense arms.

Dulles told the meeting that the passport restrictions were lifted as of today. This makes U. S. passports valid for the Soviet Union and all other East European countries with which the United States maintains relations.

Dulles' move was one of the most significant actions designed to better relations between countries on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

In seeking to relieve the accumulated tensions between the Communist and non-Communist worlds, the West challenged Russia to stop jamming Western broadcasts, quit censoring news and let down the bars to free travel to and from the Soviet Union.

The West also called for stepped-up trade with the Iron Curtain countries.

Spearheading the West's drive, Dulles also proposed:

1. An agreement on reciprocal aviation rights between the United States and Russia to enable American airliners to land at Moscow and Soviet airliners to land at New York.

2. Removal of Soviet press and radio censorship and an end to jamming of Western broadcasts.

3. Exchange of radio broadcasts between the U. S. and Russia.

4. Free circulation of the U. S. sponsored Russian language magazine America in the Soviet Union and circulation of an official Soviet magazine in the United States.

5. Distribution of U. S. films in Russia and reciprocal setting up of information centers.

6. Increased exchanges of tours between the United States and Russia.

7. Stepped up trade with the Soviet Union.

The three Western foreign ministers met for an hour and 20 minutes to line up a solid front on the Middle Eastern crisis and to align their strategy in the Big Four conference itself.

Authoritative Western spokesmen said they now are in "complete agreement" on a three-point policy for the war-threatened Middle East.

Chinese Release Four Americans, Including Priest, Wife of Sailor

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists released four more Americans today, including a Catholic priest, the White Russian wife of an American sailor and a 35-year-old Fulbright student who said Communist "rehabilitation" had improved her.

Those released were:

Father Armand Proulx, Lawrence, Mass., a Jesuit priest in China since the 1930s.

Mrs. Nadeshda M. Romanoff, wife of an American sailor, and her daughter, Irene. They have been living in Harbin, Manchuria, where the Reds refused repeated requests for an exit visa.

Mrs. Romanoff is a naturalized American citizen.

Miss Harriet Mills, a Fulbright scholar of New York City.

Miss Mills came to Hong Kong by train from Peiping. The others arrived aboard the British ship Hanyang.

Father Proulx said he had spent 43 months in jail in Shanghai where he was questioned at least 30 times. But he was not tried.

until last Wednesday — when Red China announced his release.

The priest said the prosecutor general's office charged him with refusing to register as a member of the Legion of Mary and of assaulting a Chinese beggar. He was sentenced to four years and immediate deportation.

Mrs. Romanoff said she was forced to leave behind property worth $400,000 and that she had arrived in Hong Kong penniless. She was being cared for by the International Refugee Organization before going to San Francisco.

Miss Mills, 35, defiantly told newspapermen "I am not a Communist" and "I have not even thought of being a Communist" but that the Chinese government was "completely justified in arresting me."

She said she fully believed Communist claims that the United States had practiced germ warfare in Korea.

She quickly made it clear she considers the Americans warmongers and the Chinese "peace loving people."

Mrs. Woodward, the daughter of a middle class Pittsburg, Kan., family, married the banking heir in Tacoma, Wash., in 1943. They had two children, William III, 11, and James, 7, who were reported to have been taken to the Manhattan home of their paternal grandmother after the tragedy.

An examination of young Lavern Engst's body was scheduled and authorities planned to drain off the slough where the discovery was made Sunday.

Sheriff Martin S. Ryan said it was "inconceivable" that Lavern's body had been overlooked in a shoulder - to - shoulder search by thousands of men last October.

Lavern wandered into the fields on Oct. 17, 1954, to meet his father and disappeared into the North Dakota dusk.

Thousands of men camped around Powers Lake to aid in the biggest hunt in North Dakota's history. They joined hands and walked in mile-long human chains across the rugged country. Airplanes, helicopters and bloodhounds were called in to help.

In all, the search covered 100 square miles. But no trace of Lavern was found then.

Last week, Williston, N. D., newsman Dan Halligan organized a "final" search to "ease the last doubts" in the minds of the parents.

About 75 men gathered in Powers Lake and pushed into the muddy sloughs. They burned away the tall, tough grass and began draining away the water. Lavern's badly decomposed body was found lying in about a foot of water.

The Engst family has been dogged by misfortune—only last Tuesday fire destroyed two of Engst's barns and his entire winter's supply of hay for his dairy herd.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Men shall not live by bread alone.

A good many have tried it, but man is far more than an animal men who had gained wealth and

Behind Those Resolutions

Editorial — By BRUCE BISSAT
A distinguished lawyer and former national commander of the American Legion, Ray Murphy, has afforded us striking insight into how great organizations like the Legion are sometimes maneuvered into approving ill-considered resolutions on topics of national concern.

At its recent Miami convention the Legion by voice vote condemned UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, on grounds it was Communist, atheistic and sympathetic to world government.

Murphy was chairman of a special Legion committee ordered by the 1953 and 1954 conventions to investigate these charges. He now says that five or six members of this group, including himself, then had a bias against UNESCO on the basis of what the Legion already had said.

The committee set about probing the matter, examining 23 specific charges against the organization. One, for example, was that Alger Hiss fathered UNESCO.

In the course of its inquiry, the committee visited Communist bookshops and scanned the files of the Daily Worker, hunting for boosts for UNESCO. They found none.
They could not find evidence to support any of the charges.

"After a thorough study," says
Murphy, "we changed our minds."
The group decided instead that UNESCO was doing effective work in reducing illiteracy in backward lands, that it was trying earnestly, though sometimes ineffectually, to lift general standards of health, nutrition and education all over the world.

Interestingly enough, a similar committee named by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States had come to the same conclusions about UNESCO: "We looked for evidence and we could not find it."

Last May, Murphy presented his committee's findings to the Leg-ion's national executive body in a two-and-a-half-hour speech.

"At the end," he says, "I received a rising ovation, which was unheard of."

But Murphy and his group did not "campaign" to put over their report with the full convention at Miami. It is estimated that fewer than 50 of the 3200 delegates ever read the painstakingly prepared document. There was no debate on the subject.

Instead, the convention proceeded to endorse a resolution which denounced UNESCO on all the counts Murphy's committee had found to be false.

Murphy attributed this "astonishing result to a 'vociferous' and tightly organized minority of extremists whose views do not represent the Legion rank and file. In the absence of an organized effort to support the committee's findings, the extremists stampeded the convention.

It's a sad lesson. Evidently facts alone are not enough. They must be vigorously championed, and the rank and file must be willing and eager to hear and accept them.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Senate Investigators Learn U. S. Purchases Coal From Iron Curtain Countries.

WASHINGTON — It is not supposed to be revealed until public hearings, but Senate investigators have uncovered information that "American taxpayers' dollars are being used to purchase coal from iron curtain countries while our American miners are shut down and our American miners out of work."

They have made this finding in a confidential report to Sen. Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, chairman of the Senate Coal subcommittee. Senate investigators also charge that government bureaucrats have spent $34,200,000 of the taxpayers' money for coal merely on the authorization of a New York Times story. A report in the Times that the government was to buy coal was the only authorization the International Cooperation Administration had for buying coal.

Purpose of the Senate investigation was to discover what had happened to the President's emergency coal purchase program to relieve unemployment in distressed coal fields. On the eve of the 1954 congressional elections, President Eisenhower authorized spending $150,000,000 for 10,000,000 tons of coal.

Senate probers found that the administration had quietly abandoned this program last month after purchasing only 1,130,080 tons.

"Thus," their confidential report states, "in a full year, ICA was able to achieve about 12½ per cent of its announced purchase goal at an expenditure of more than 25 per cent of its announced budget."

COAL FROM SOVIET COUNTRIES

What really shocked the investigators, however, was the fact that tax dollars are being used to purchase coal from behind the iron curtain.

"Both the National Coal Assocation and the United Mine Workers are particularly bitter about ICA Director John S. Hollister's complete disregard of 'buy American' for commercial coal purchases," the report declares. "The United Mine Workers submitted statistics to show that American taxpayers' dollars are being used to purchase coal from iron curtain countries, while our American miners are shut down and our American miners out of work."

The Senate investigators also repeatedly sought the ICA's authorization for its emergency coal purchases.

"We specifically requested several times a copy of any authorization for the program and the criteria used in determining in what areas purchases were to be made," they report. "We were shown a dog-eared photostat of the New York Times news story of September 22, 1954, and were told that was all the written authorization that the office ever had."

"ICA regards the Denver announcement," as reported in the Times, its authority for spending $34,200,000 in public funds. The mine workers state they understand the program was abandoned on the basis of another New York Times story that coal exports were up and conditions in the coal areas improving. It would seem that the New York Times both made policy and provided official authorization for spending public funds."

THE STORY: Three sinister incidents have occurred aboard the Vittoria, yacht owned by the international mystery man Viggo Sand, which is sailing into the Caribbean.
Robert Deane and his partner Bertram Lynch, who is actually working for British Intelligence, learn that Sand is seeking gold bullion hidden in Haiti by a Nazi submarine in the closing days of the war.

Lynch returned to his chair with the appearance of a man who was going to settle down for a long and friendly chat.
Assume there's no use asking, Herr Meer, precisely where the cheats are? We'll learn that all in good time. Doesn't matter really, so long as Mr. Sand knows."

The millionaire moved his head in a negative gesture.

Charles Kielhorn Weds Indianapolis Girl; On Honeymoon Trip to Southland

The home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Kielhorn, 450 South Somerset avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., was the scene Friday, Oct. 14, for the marriage of their son, Charles Roy and Miss Carol June Whyland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Whyland, 731 South Norfolk street.

Double ring vows were repeated in front of the fireplace, which was wreathed with greenery and flowers of mums, carnations, and roses. Wilbur W. McMeins, 44 North Rural street, and uncle of the bridegroom, lighted tall white tapers in tiered candelabra that graced the mantle for the 7:30 p. m. ceremony.

The officiating minister, Rev. Clayton Humphrey, 25 North Club street, Harrisburg, is a former pastor and close friend of the Kielhorn family. Preceding the ceremony, the guests heard piano music by Miss Annette Hunt, a classmate of the bride.

The bride appeared in a ballerina length white gown of chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta, designed with a fitted bodice and gathered bouffant skirt with pleated tulle inlays. Her waist length veil showed a pearl and rhinestone tiara. She carried a colonial bouquet of white mums surrounding a center of pink rosebuds, with cascading streamers knotted with pink buds.

The bride's only attendant was the bridegroom's sister, Miss Patricia Ruth Kielhorn, who wore a pale blue ballerina length gown fashioned of lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink mums and roses.

Mr. Kielhorn chose as best man Thomas George Kirtiss.

Mrs. Whyland wore a dark blue crepe dress for her daughter's wedding and a corsage of orchids. The bridegroom's mother was attired in black velvet, and his grandmother, Mrs. Charles R. Kielhorn of Harrisburg, wore a dress of blue and white nylon jersey. They also wore orchid corsages.

Immediately following the reception in the Kielhorn home, the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to New Orleans and a tour of the South. The bride for her traveling trip wore a two piece suit of tan tweed complemented by olive green velvet accessories.

The bride graduated from the Ben Davis high school in Indianapolis, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Harrisburg Township high school in the class of 1952. He also attended the University of Texas and Purdue university in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Kielhorn formerly lived at Harrisburg, and Carrier Mills RFD 1.

Name Expert to Build Toll Roads

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles L. Dearing, Brookings Institution transportation expert, has been named to run Illinois' $415-million-dollar toll road construction job, Toll Highway Commission Chairman Evan Howell said today.

Dearing's appointment as executive director at a salary "in the neighborhood of $25,000" will be put before the commission Tuesday in Springfield for formal approval, Howell said.

Vice Adm. Francis P. Old, who became executive director Feb. 1, 1954, upon retiring from the Navy, resigned his toll commission post Aug. 1 to take a job with a construction firm.

Old had been paid $15,000 a year. Howell said the higher salary for Dearing "is comparable to what other states have to pay for men in that spot."

The $415-million-dollar bond issue for Illinois' first toll road construction—a total of 193.3 miles—was offered for sale last week, providing the funds for paying the executive director and other staff members.

Dearing, 52, a senior staff member on the private research institution at Washington, D. C., has made special transportation studies for the state of California and for ex-President Herbert Hoover's commission on streamlining the federal government.

Airman, Couple Killed in Headon Auto Collision

METAMORA, Ill. (AP)—A Chicago airman and a Metamora couple were killed late Sunday in a head-on automobile collision on Ill. 116 about three miles east of here.

Dead were Airman Augustus A. Green, 28, who was stationed at Hanna City AFB near Peoria, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Schertz.

State Police Sgt. Kenneth Cobb said the cars driven by Green and Schertz, 66, collided in the middle of the highway and that one driver apparently was blinded by the other's lights.

The accident brought to seven the number of persons killed in the Peoria area during the weekend.

Three persons were killed Saturday near Rome when their car tried to pass another vehicle and crashed head-on into a milk truck. The victims were Roy J. Osborn, 24, Davis, Okla., and Jimmy Dale Stalnaker, 19, and William L. Boyd, 39, both of Oklahoma City.

Leonard J. Nelson, 44, Farmington, was killed Saturday in a collision with a hog truck about eight miles west of Farmington at the junction of Ill. 116 and 97.

Youth Killed Near Olive Branch

OLIVE BRANCH, Ill. (AP)—A Jackson, Mo., youth was killed in a traffic accident north of here early Sunday.

The Alexander County sheriff's office said Bobby Dean Seabright, 17, was killed when the car he was driving collided with a semi-trailer truck on Ill. 3. Juanita Crites, 17, also of Jackson, was reported injured critically and two other teenagers from Jackson received lesser injuries.

The truck driver, Horace Baker, 28, Belleville, and his two small sons who were riding with him escaped injury. Baker told authorities he tried to steer his truck off the road when he saw the car weaving from side to side. Authorities said a blowdown may have sent the car out of control.

Westinghouse Grants Pay Boosts To Non-Union Workers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. crippled by a twin strike of 55,000 production workers, today granted pay increases totalling 16 per cent over a five-year period to 25,000 non-union employees.

The increases and some 30 other benefits were similar to those provided in an agreement reached late Friday night with the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried Employees, representing 13,500 white collar workers.

Two other unions, the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and the independent United Electrical Workers, have rejected virtually the same terms. The IUE has been on strike since Oct. 17 and the UE since Oct. 25.

Predicts Los Angeles Will Be No. One City

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An Illinois insurance executive predicts that within 10 years Los Angeles will be the No. 1 city in the United States.

Charles E. Becker, president of Franklin Life Insurance Co., of Springfield, Ill., said California already is tops in the nation in business production.

Becker described the southern California area as the fastest-growing and most economically sound in the nation.

eligible to participate in the state cross country meet at the University of Illinois Saturday, Nov. 5.

Eight schools participated in the district meet, but all schools did not have full teams. In figuring team scoring only those schools with five or more boys running were considered and in some cases runners on teams were moved up a place or so ahead of their individual places to get the team scoring.

Eldorado's Klaffer was moved from 32nd to 31st and Galatia's Hudgins from 21st to 20th.

Eldorado's point winning total was 63, Galatia scored 64 and Christopher 65.

Cockrum covered the two-mile course in 9.54 for championship honors.

Order of finish for the Eldorado runners, accompanied to the meet by Coach Gene Haile: Bob Watson 4th, Frank Willis 6th, Leonard Willis 9th, Roscoe Wood 13th and Jack Klaffer 31st.

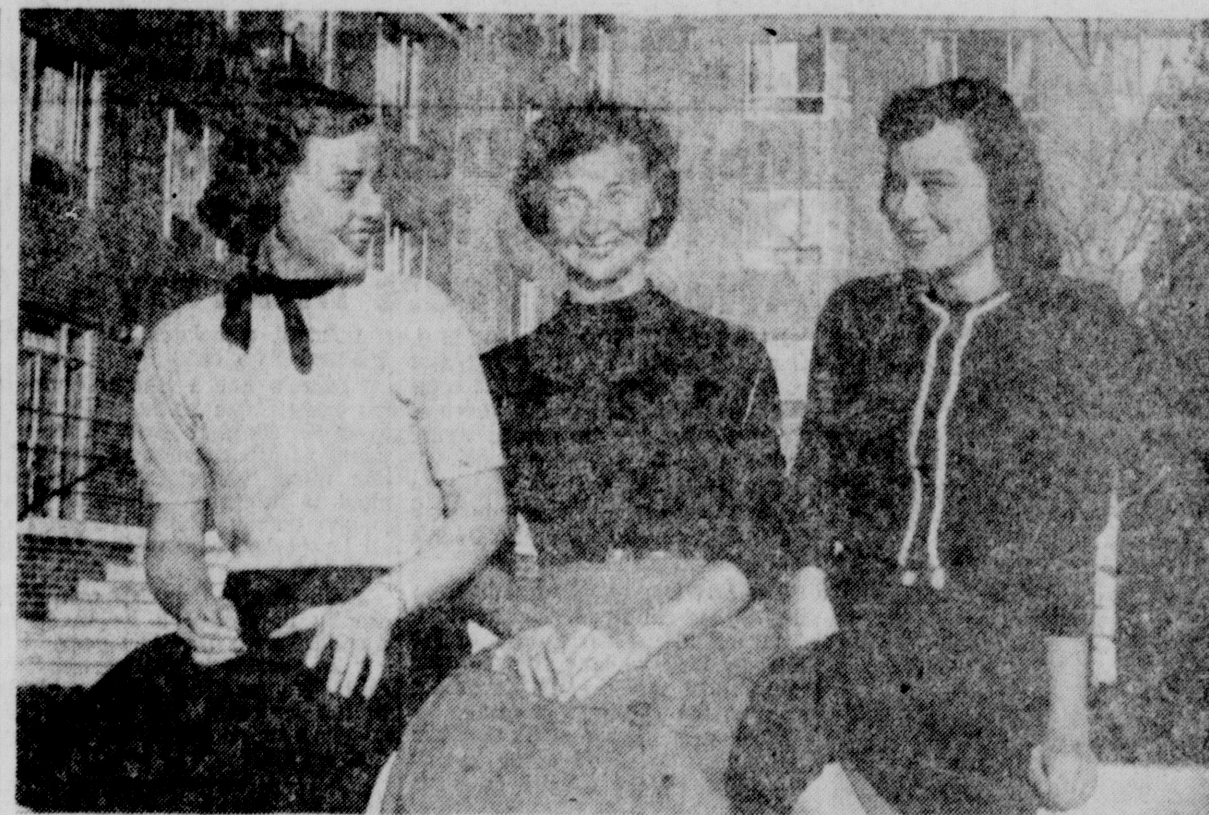

Trailing Cockrum for Galatia were Wickham 11th, Griffin 12th, McFarland and Hudgins scored for 20th.

Points are scored in the order of finish, one for first, two for second and etc., with the lowest number of points the winner.

Cigar Bowl Game To Be Dropped
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cigar Bowl football game, which has been part of the post-season college football show since 1947, will not be played this year.

Dewey Goff, potentate of the Egypt Temple Shrine Club which sponsored the game for charity, announced the decision to drop the game today because steadily shrinking attendance has cut profits deeply.

Fighting giraffes swing their long necks like baseball bats in an effort to knock each other off balance.

IHSA to Investigate Dispute; Game Called Off at Half

CHICAGO (AP) — Al Willis, executive secretary of the Illinois High School Assn., said today he will make a "careful investigation" of a dispute which disrupted the Villa Grove-Oakland football game Friday night.

The officials called the game off at the half when a group of irate fans followed them from the field to the dressing room. Two players, one on each team, had been ejected during the first half.

Willis said he had received no report from the officials, who allegedly were threatened by the fans. He said his information was "hearsay."

But he said he understood that school authorities conferred during the halftime intermission and had decided to ask the fans for order so that the game could continue when the officials decided to call it off.

Willis said there may be a question whether the officials had the power to call the game.

"Perhaps the decision should have been left to the school administrators," he said.

Willis said he understood there was no actual "fighting or rioting."

"Nevertheless," he said, "it was not the sort of thing that should happen at a high school football game."

Sentenced to State Farm

William E. "Pete" Riley of Moorehouse, Mo., injured last week when his car overturned near Ledford on Route 45, today was sentenced to six months on the state farm at Vandalia when he pleaded guilty in county court to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Riley, former Saline county resident, also had been wanted by local authorities for a long time on a warrant charging that he abandoned his six children in this county.

Riley's wife, injured in the crash, remains a patient in the Harrisburg hospital.

The Herrin Tigers stayed in the race with Harrisburg for top honors in the South Seven football conference by defeating West Frankfort, 20-0, at Herrin Saturday night. The game had been postponed from Friday night because of rain and mud.

Herrin scored on passes from McPherson to Booth and Jefferson and on a run by Hamilton.

Says Durocher Will Replace Grimm by June 15

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Leo Durocher will replace Charlie Grimm as manager of the Milwaukee Braves by next June 15 "if the club doesn't show substantial improvement by that time," it was learned Sunday night.

Milwaukee officials feeling that the Braves were lackadaisical the past season and needed "more fire" in 1956, considered hiring Durocher after he left the Giants last month but decided to "go along with Grimm a little longer," according to a high-placed National League source.

So instead of letting Grimm go, the Braves reshuffled their coaching staff, releasing Johnny Cooney and Bucky Walters and bringing in a pair of "fiery individuals" — Fred Haney and Charlie Root — in their place.

Braves Denial Expected
The Braves undoubtedly will deny that Grimm has to make an improved showing by mid-June to keep his job but Milwaukee owner Lou Perini certainly will not deny he personally told this writer that he was "never more confident we would win" than he was at the start of the 1954 season.

Perini also felt the 1955 Braves were strong enough to beat any club in baseball, including the Yankees in the World Series.

Under Grimm, however, Milwaukee finished third in 1954 and second, 13½ games behind the pennant-winning Dodgers, during the past season.

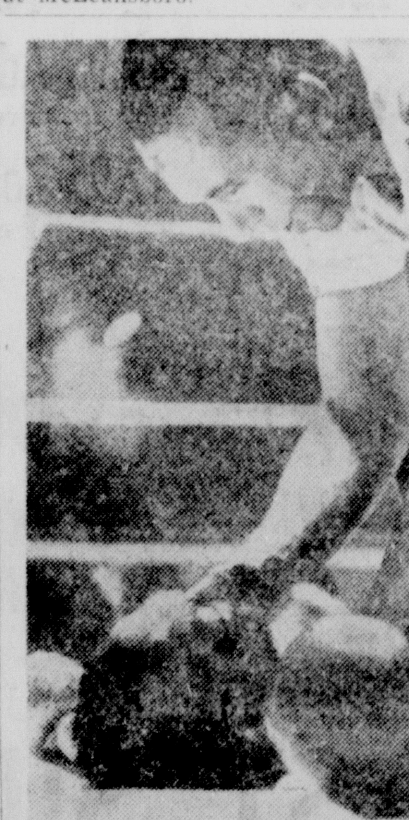

Grateful to Milwaukee fans for their patronage and all-out enthusiasm, Perini is determined to give them a pennant winner as soon as possible. Like many other baseball men, he has a tremendous regard for Durocher's managerial ability.

Disney TV Series Feature Movie Made at McLeansboro

The series, produced by Walt Disney Enterprises, will feature a serial movie in which young Evans is the juvenile star. The movie was made during the past summer at McLeansboro.

SIU, Western Play 13-13 Tie

Salukis Miss
Chance of Victory
In Closing Minutes

MACOMB, Ill. — Spotting its hosts a 13-point lead, Southern Illinois university's grid squad roared back to tie the tough Western Illinois Leathernecks, 13-13, before a wet and cold Homecoming crowd of 8,000 here Saturday afternoon.

Southern almost won the game in the closing minutes, but a 67-yard march to Western's 3 was halted by a 15-yard holding penalty, and a 32-yard field goal attempt by quarterback Carver Shannon, Corinth, Miss., fell five yards short.

Western's smooth passing attack led by quarterback Bill Vandemerk of Oak Park proved to be the equal of SIU's hard-punching rushing offense.

Both lines were outstanding. Especially noticeable were Western Illinois' right tackle, Robert Anders, 220-pound sophomore from Moline, and SIU's Marion Rushing, 190-pound guard from Pinckneyville.

It took Western only 10 plays to score in the first quarter, Vandemerk climaxing the drive by a plunge from one foot out. His kick for the extra point was wide.

Western's line put up a gallant goal line stand against SIU in the closing seconds of the first half as it took the Salukis eight plays to punch their way from the Western 14 to a touchdown. Halfback Jack Schneider, Glen Carbon, scored from the one, and fullback Bill Spratt, Salem, kicked the extra point to make the score, 13-7, in favor of Western at the half.

After a scoreless third quarter, SIU scored on the first play of the final quarter on a three-yard plunge by Schneider. A bad pass from center on the extra point try ruined Southern's chances to move ahead.

Statistics were about even, the Salukis outgaining Western in net yardage, 229-218. Western led, 13-11, in passing, while SIU, paced by Schneider and Shannon, was tops in net rushing, 188-105. SIU was ahead in first downs, 12-11. Southern's left end, Wayne Williams, Du Quoin, averaged 43 yards in two punts to boost his overall season average to 39.7 for 24 punts — 8th best mark among the nation's small colleges.

Southern's right guard, Jim McCann, received a broken arm in the opening quarter and will be lost for the rest of the season.

The tie all but knocked the Salukis out of a possible share of the conference title, but does give SIU an excellent chance to capture second place if the I. L. A. C. leader, Michigan Normal, beats Central Michigan in a conference-deciding game Nov. 5.

Southern clashes with Washington university in a Homecoming game at Carbondale this Saturday afternoon.

Wes Santee is Suspended
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Wes Santee, America's top miller whose expense accounts led to his suspension by the Missouri Valley AAU Registration Association, couldn't be reached for comment today.

There was some question of whether he will be available for the Olympic Games to be held in Australia in 1956. But a committee member, who declined the use of his name, was hopeful.

"Santee is a good boy and is not guilty of running for money," the committee member said. "He is a good American representative for the Olympics. I think it can all be worked out."

Efforts to reach Santee at Quantico, Va., where he is stationed with the Marine Corps were unavailing. A Marine Corps spokesman said Santee "was away on a running trip." He wouldn't elaborate.

In New York, Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the National AAU, said he did not know how the Missouri Valley's action would affect Santee as far as the 1956 Olympics are concerned.

May Be Barred
"We shall have to wait until we get the official report," Ferris said. "However, if the suspension is for one year — as is usual in such cases — Santee would be barred from participating in the Olympic tryouts."

The tryouts will be held next June 28 and 29. The suspension arose from charges Santee accepted expense money to run in California last summer.

The committee member indicated Santee can appeal his suspension to the Missouri Valley AAU Board of Directors. Failing that, the miller can carry his appeal to the National AAU convention. The convention is scheduled for Louisville, Ky., in December.

Santee, a Marine Corps lieutenant, was not present when the registration committee met Sunday and suspended him. But it was disclosed that he had appeared before five of the committee's seven members on Oct. 23.

Navy's Perfect Record Upset by Notre Dame, 21-7; 7 Leading Teams Beaten

By United Press

Navy's Middies, their perfect record sunk and their chance of a return bowl trip damaged by hard-hitting Notre Dame had plenty of company in misery today as high ranked college football team beamed a "weekend of woe."

Of the nation's 18 leading teams, only 10 scored victories. Seven were beaten and another suffered a costly tie.

The Middies, who had high hopes of whipping Notre Dame for the first time since 1944 and improving their No. 4 national ranking, were the major victims of the weekend. Seventh-ranked Notre Dame, with quarterback Paul Hornung widely outplaying Navy's celebrated George Welsh in their personal duel for possible All-America honors led all the way and won, 21-7.

Watching the clash at South Bend, Ind., were officials of the Sugar Bowl game, which was won by Navy last year. The convincing loss may have dimmed prospects of Navy's being asked to return to the Sugar Bowl—but it was believed a bid still might be forthcoming if the Middies win all their remaining games, including an impressive victory over Army. Navy got its Sugar Bowl bid last season despite a 6-0 loss to Notre Dame.

Other Major Casualties
Here were other major casualties:

Auburn (No. 8) lost to Tulane, 27-13, and dropped out of the Southeastern Conference lead.

CORONATION OF HARVEST QUEEN was one of the highlights of the annual Halloween celebration at Carrier Mills. Miss Judy Brewer was the winner of the Harvest Queen contest, held in connection with the Halloween celebration at Carrier Mills Saturday night, and was crowned by Morse Hill, president of the Lions club. The celebration is sponsored each year by the Carrier Mills Lions. There were six girls in the Harvest Queen contest, left to right, Sharon Russell, Shirley Pyle, Queen Judy, Elaine Smith, Beverly Parsons and Barbara Killman. Miss Brewer received a 17-jewel Bulova diamond set wrist watch. Miss Russell, second place winner, received a Parker 51 pen and pencil set and Miss Pyle, for third, was awarded an engraved identification bracelet. The other three girls received ladies' billfolds. The men on the platform are, left to right, Harry McAtee, Guy Hunter, partially hidden, and Jim Thornton, members of the Harvest Queen committee. Warren Jennings, another member of the committee, was not present when picture was made. The Halloween celebration started about 6 p. m. and continued until 9:30. Entertainment included numbers by the high school and grade school bands and music by Lucky LeRoy. Robert Whitney was master of ceremonies for the program. (Photo by H. Dewar)

Ike Agrees to Ask Higher Postal Rates

President Confers With Postmaster General Summerfield

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower in a conference today with Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield agreed to renew his request to Congress next year for higher postal rates.

Summerfield, former chairman of the Republican National Committee and one of Mr. Eisenhower's chief campaign advisers in 1952, said that not a word of politics was discussed at Fitzsimons Army Hospital today.

Summerfield echoed what other visiting Cabinet members have said—that it would be "inappropriate" to discuss Mr. Eisenhower's political future and the current political scene while the chief executive is recovering from a heart attack.

The President's condition continued to progress satisfactorily and before seeing Summerfield today the President was able to take 100 steps in his eighth floor hospital room.

The White House also announced that next Wednesday, the chief executive will confer here with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

On Saturday, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will have as their guests Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, the deputy commander of NATO defense forces and one of the chief executive's close colleagues in World War II.

Summerfield indicated that the administration again would ask for 4-cent first class postage and 7-cent airmail rates. He said a request for higher rates in the first three classes was vital to re-establishment of the Post Office Department on a "pay-as-you-go" basis rather than continuing to build up a departmental deficit which totals more than $4,600,000 since the end of World War II.

Mr. Eisenhower celebrated the beginning of his sixth week of recovery by walking about his suite more than he had ever done before his attack. The medical reports continue encouraging.

But the political winds howled about his strong support of Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson after their conference here late Saturday.

Mr. Eisenhower made it certain that he is solidly behind the embattled Benson and is not backing down on the administration's controversial program of flexible farm price supports.

Mr. Eisenhower also approved the agriculture secretary's six-point program aimed at dealing immediately with the biggest political headache confronting the Republicans. He said he would recommend the program in a special farm message to Congress in January.

Oxnam Appeals to All Faiths to Attack Communism

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam appealed to Catholics Sunday to join Protestants in a unified attack on communism in the "struggles for the minds of man."

"As a first step toward the reconciliation of Protestant and Roman Catholics," he said, "may we not pledge ourselves in all matters involving religious liberty to do unto others as we would be done by?"

"The Communist has no strategy by which to deal with spiritual force," Oxnam said, "but if those who wield spiritual force are divided, the communists can move out with the force upon which he relies and challenge not only the free way of life but life grounded in spiritual principle."

Oxnam, a former president of the World Council of Churches, made his appeal in an address before some 3,000 Protestants at a "Festival of Faith" marking the birth of the Reformation in 1517.

Maj. Gen. Dean, Hero Of Taejon, Retires After 32 Years in Army

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, a foot soldier who never could get comfortable in his role as the "hero of Taejon," retires from the Army today after 32 years' service.

The Army planned an elaborate farewell ceremony, complete with full dress parade, to mark Dean's last hour in its ranks.

The fuss was likely to embarrass the 56-year-old Dean. The general, captured in the early days of the Korean War while trying to spot Communist tanks, could never get used to the spotlight of fame.

"The real heroes of Taejon are the ones who didn't come back," he said. "What I have done is nothing compared to the great sacrifices made by so many others."

Dean, released from a Red prison camp in September, 1953, has since advised, too, against judging too harshly those who broke under Communist brainwashing. He has served since his release as deputy commander of the 6th Army here.

The general has only one goal in mind right now.

"My only desire is to devote my time to my wife and family," he said.

But aides of the crew-cut general predicted he would not be idle long.

Native of Carlyle, Ill., "He's got too much drive to sit back in an easy chair and watch the world go by," said an officer who has served eight years with Dean. "This is not a man who relaxes. He is a genius and genius drives itself 24 hours a day."

Dean, a native of Carlyle, Ill., who also distinguished himself as commander of the 44th Infantry Division in Europe in World War II, said he would retire with his wife to his mother's home across the bay at Berkeley.

"After that I don't know," he said. "We may travel some but mostly I'm just going to take it easy."

Dean so far has not accepted any of many offers from private companies.

An aide said Dean probably would go to Alaska to visit his daughter, Mrs. Robert C. Williams, her soldier husband and their three children, and then to see his son, William Jr., stationed with the Air Force in Texas.

Praised By Associates
As the ramrod-straight soldier ended more than three decades in the Army, associates had nothing but praise for him.

"There's not a phony bone in his body," one said. "He never loses his courtesy even under moments of great stress. I think the one word that characterizes him most is integrity. General Dean is one person who is stripped of all tinsel and carries the heart of a giant."

Dean summed up his own philosophy in a speech he made on Armed Forces Day last year.

"Lip service is not enough," he said. "We must live our own ideals. In the long run it is what we do and how we do it, not what we say, that counts."

Hoover Joins Sponsors Of Truman Library

Mr. Hoover wired library Vice President Edwin W. Pauley that he "would be glad" to be one of the committee's sponsors.

Mr. Truman will be guest of honor and speaker here Nov. 28 when a fund-raising dinner is held in behalf of the library, Pauley said.

Burns to Death

CLINTON, Ill. (AP) — The body of Forrest Nickelson, 54, Sunday was found in the burning ruins of his one room shack.

Nickelson, a farm laborer born in Willisburg, Ky., had converted the shack from a milk wagon. His body was nearly consumed by the fire. Coroner John Herrington said an inquest will be held.

Madonna Council Holds Communion Breakfast at Eldorado

The Madonna Council of the Knights of Columbus held a communion breakfast at St. Mary's church in Eldorado Sunday morning, Oct. 30, after eight o'clock mass.

In attendance were approximately sixty members and guests from Harrisburg, Stonefort and Eldorado.

The group met in the parish hall and marched into church in a body, preceded by Father W. E. Hanagan and the altar boys. After assisting at mass and receiving Holy Communion the group adjourned to the parish hall where they were served a hearty breakfast by the ladies of the Eldorado Altar society.

After breakfast Grand Knight Pfister introduced Father Hanagan who spoke briefly and offered some suggestions as to programs the Madonna Council might carry out in the future. The principal speaker, District Deputy Jake Eisenhower of Du Quoin, was then introduced and in his address he traced the history of the Knights of Columbus from the time of its inception to the present, showing the wonderful growth of the organization and some of the works being carried out at present.

The fifth Sunday of the month is designated as Knights of Columbus Communion Sunday. The next meeting will be held early in 1956.
